STERLING VICTORY FOR TANGLE

TANYA'S SISTER TAKES ADIRON-DACK HANDICAP.

Beats Juggler and Bavena in Hot Finish

—Tyren, a Fayorite, Leff at the Post

—Jessamine Scores for R. T. Wilson, Jr.

SARATOGA, Aug. 20. 15. Allschook's Tangle, a full sister to the noted Tanga, won the Adirondack Handicap, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, fadder in a repeational olds, six furlongs, to day; in a sensational finish. She was regarded by the wise men as a sure winner and was a hot favorite at 6 to 5. H. P. Whitney's Juggler, on the other hand, because of a poor warm up, went back in the betting from twos to fours, with a good play about John Sanford's Ravena at fives. At the sendoff Lyne took Juggler to the front at a rattling clip, with Ravena and Bill Phillips in close attendance, O'Neill trailed behind the trio with Tangle under restraint, until the head of the stretch under restraint, until the head of the stretch was reached. Then Tangle began to show her worth, for she hadto scaroned the others to be able to challenge. It was in the hast few strides that she caught Jugger and beat him in a hot drive by three parts of a length in 1:13 2-5. Juggler lasted long enough to heat Ravena a head, with Bill Phillips a head back and three parts of a length in from of beat Ravena a head, with Bill Phillips a nead-back and three parts of a length in front of the Western colt, James Reddick.

Starter Cassidy, whose work lately has been very ragged, was rather severely scored, when Tyron, the favorite in the handicap-at a mile, was left standing at the post. There were only four starters in this race, Tyron closing at 7 to 5, with Foncasta backed down to 5 to 2 and J. H. Talbot's Shawana reduced to 18 to 5. The latter was full of running and, after showing the way from the start won in a gallop by three lengths in 1:40. Fon-casta fired at the end, and Right Royal, 8 to 1, beat him a head for the place.

R. T. Wilson, Jr's, Jessamine, 7 to 1, took first race, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs. Margaret M., 4 to 1, made the pace until the last furlong pole, where she weakened and Jessamine, under McDaniel's ersuasion, came in to victory by a length.

ansas Price's Belden. 9 to 2, who did not begin well, closed with much power and pegin well, closed with much power and nailed the place by a head from Astral II., 7 to 2 favorite, who had a length and a half over Father Bill Daly's Gentian. The time

Mr. Harris rode a perfect race in the steeplechase, at about two miles and a half, and brought Conover, the 9 to 5 favorite, home an easy winner by half a dozen lengths. He was in front all the way and held the others safe at all periods. Punctual, 3 to 1, the safe at all periods. did his best and took place money from Pious by a length and a half. Ruth's Rattler, second by a length and a nair. Right's rattler, second choice, received a weak ride from Graham. The time was 5:29.

Ninnasquaw, who was played from 100 to 1 down to 30, had a world of speed in the third race, at a mile, leading right up to the last few yards or so. But she tired when the crisis came, and wiffle Knapp got Our Sister, 3 to 1, up in time to win the race by half a length, in 1:40 3-5. Ninnasquaw had enough left to take second money by a head from York-shire Lad. 6 to 1, who came from nowhere and beat Telephone, the favorite, by a head. The latter got away at a disadvantage and ever became a factor. Sam Hildreth cut Van Ness loose in the fifth event, at six furlengs, with the nice odds of 15 to 1 about him, and the old fellow simply stood the others on their heads. He went to the front quickly and won easily in 1:13 4-5.

For Luck, the favorite, was the contender for half a mile and then exploded. Monte Carlo, backed down to 4 to 1, ran one of his good races and fluished in the place, three lengths in front of The Cure, a 20 to 1 shot, who, dropped out of the sky and took third money from King Rose, 4 to 1, by a head. Henry Best, well played at 5 to 1, was plached off at the start. Four favorites were defeated and Willie Knapp rode two winners. The track was fast and the attendance good.

ALLERSON WINS NEPONSET. Canadian Woman's Horses Take Two Grand Circuit Races.

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 23.—The Grand Circuit meeting at this track was brought close this afternson with three regular and two amateur races on the card. The richness of the purses in the three regular events brought a fine lot of horses together. The weather was perfect and the track in excellent condition.

The best race of the afternoon was in the Neponset, for 2.08 pacers, and six heats were necessary to decide it. Everybody expected to see Walter Direct win this race but Geers's horse was slightly lame, and he could not pace as fast as Allerson, winner of the last three heats. Geary took the first heat handily, but broke badly in the homestretch in the next heat, and Walter Direct won in a close drive with Don Carr and Allison. Directum Miller led the bunch in the billing the bulb before the bulb in the third heat, nosing out Allerson at the wire. Directum Miller was drawn on account of lameness after this heat. In the next three heats Brady kept Allerson back until coming to the homestretch, when he forced the gray into first place, winning by a head each time.

Miss Katherine L. Wilkes of Gault, Canada. had the satisfaction of seeing her horses win both the rich Massachusetts Stake for 2:10 trotters and the Tyro for three-year-old Massachusetts, and in the first heat the mare owered the record for this event. Sadie led the big field around the track, winning by three lengths over Kid Shay. In the second heat the Canadian mare broke coming to the homestretch, and Kid Shay won easily. In the next two heats Sadie behaved properly and won without difficulty. Katherine L. was counted on to win the Tyro, and she did the trick in straight heats, equaling the record for the event. CLOSING DAYS AT THE SPA.

REASON SOUGHT FOR THE MIS-HAP TO TYRON.

Gors to the Post Without Blinkers and Throws Jockey-Licenses of Jockeys Kelly and Porter Revoked-Cassidy

Wanted for Starter at New Orleans. SARATOGA, Aug. 23,-One did not need to look at his program to-day to realize that the meeting here ends to-morrow. The crowd, good, was made up almost entirely of visitors and those who cannot miss a day's racing, no matter where or what, the con-ditions. In the boxes and the club houses the showing was better. Many of the very best friends of the sport have remained over for the close, a loyalty that the management must appreciate.

As for the racing, it was fairly interesting and might have been enjoyable but for a mishap in the closing event, by which Tyron, the favorite, was left at the pest. On form the race looked a soft spot for this colt, yet the betting did not look healthy, some of the high stool brigade showing a willingness to take an unnatural chance against Tyron. At the post the colt was no worse than either of the three opposed to him, and when the barrier sprang it looked as if he was straight and ready for the break, but when he had taken a stride he wheeled and threw Bullman, ending, of course, his part of the contest.

No one blamed the starter, and few were inclined to put the responsibility on the rider, so a reason was sought for the accident, especially as some of the reputed wise ones seemed to take chances as though they expected something out of the ordinary. The nearest approach to an explanation was that the colt did not run in blinkers as he usually does, and when this was known there was a lot of complaint and from men that as a rule do not grumble. It is said that the change was made with the consent of the officials. It would please the public if the stewards would ask those responsible why the change The stewards of the National Hunt and Steeplechase Association met this afternoon and among the developments from the session was an announcement that they had revoked the license of Jockey W. Kelly who was suspended for an unsatisfactory ride on Ruth's Rattler on Aug. 17, and the same disposition had been made of a temporary license granted V. Porter, who rode Charawind when he was so badly beaten.

Incidentally, it is said that M. Danaher, in whose name Charawind ran, is boasting that Porter's application was indorsed by W. P Burch and two other prominent turfmen He also tells of a petition seeking elemency for the jockey, which, he says, earries the signature of P. H. McCarren, Matt Allen and W. P. Burch. Even admitting that these men did sign in the rider's behalf, it was done before the race which the horse won, and asked now to put their name to such a paper there is little chance that they would do so. Edward Corrigan left for the West to-night. Before going he had a long talk with Mars Cassidy, offering him the posi-tion of starter for the meeting that is announced for the coming winter at the City Park track in New Orleans, Cassidy declined to complete the engagement without consideration, which probably means that he will get the Ideas of the Eastern powers, where he has a good berth, before binding himself for a position with Corrigan. Curley Brown, who was the starter for the American Turf Association last spring, and for that matter is still working for them at Cin-cinnati, will be called on if Cassidy declines

The mare has lost her best form and Burlew says he feels that it is a pity to see one who has been so great repeatedly beaten by inferior fields. Some think that there is a great chance of a change of plans after Mr. Belmont considers the condition of the mare and weighs well the showing that she made in her last start, the Saratoga Cup, last Saturday. This showing was far from a poor one, and it would be a graceful thing to let her have one more try at least before permanent retirement.

Presgrave, the jumper that F. Ambrose Clark purchased from John Ferris about a year ago for a big sum, was shot this morning. He hurt himself here, and as all efforts to treat the injury seemed fruitbest it was decided to destroy him. The horse did not win while in the Clark stable.

Gray Lad, one of Frank Farrell's lot, was also shot this morning. He was nerved recently for an old ailment, and at first it was believed he was rounding to all right, but later it was found that the injured foot was in a bad condition and to race him would have been the next thing to cruelty.

Tangle's showing in the Adirondack Hardicap to-day was the best that the fully has shown here. She was outrun in the first half mile, and nassing the field stand it did not look that she had a possible chance of getting first money, but O'Neill put up a masterly finish and she was first home by three parts of a length. The fractional time tells the story of the race. The first quarter was run in 0:24 the three furlongs in 0:35 3-6, the half mile in 0:48, the full distance, six furlongs, in 1:13 2-5.

On this showing this filly must be counted dangerous in any company she, may meet from now on.

George Whoelock, president of the Metropolitar Turf Association, was taken ill at the frack to-day and removed to his coltage on the line at Sheepshead Bay next Saturday.

ONTHE EVE OF THE RIFLE SHOOT. Preliminary Practise Over at Sea Girt -Individual Contest To-day.

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 28 .- The national Sga Girt, N. J., Aug. 22.—The national individual championship rifle match will be begun to-morrow morning, and the entry lists for the two day shoot closed this evening with 631 entries. The riflemen of thirty-two States and from Hawali, West Point and every branch of the Regular service are on edge and the competition will mark a new era for rifle shooting in America. The entry list is five times as great as it was heart as list is five times as great as it was last year at Fort Riley.

The riflemen ended their preliminary practise to-day for the individual and team championships with practise at the long ranges.

The conditions for the preliminary practise pionships with practise at the long ranges. The conditions for the preliminary practise could not have been excelled, and high scores have been the order with a large number of the teams. The gal lery has given the greater part of its attention to watching the work of the champion New York team and those of the Regular service, while the Hawalians and the gray shirted West Pointers have come in for much attention. The match will be shot in two days if the range officers are able to handle the big-field in that time. It is possible that tien, Hall will cut down the list of competitors at the erd of the slow and rapid fire to those who have scored a certain percentage, in order that the skirmish rurs of the second day may be run off.

The shooting to-morrow will be 200, 300, 300 yards at rapid fire. Each competitor fires two sighting shots and fen for record at slow fire and ten at rapid fire.

NATIONAL TENNIS TOURNEY. Ward and Wright Beat Alexander and

Hackett in Doubles. NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—As a result of the play in the national lawn tennia tourna-ment to-day the second round in the all comers singles was disposed of and the championship doubles completed, Ward and Wright the defenders of the title, again having the distinction of being champions of America. It was another record breaking day as far as attendance went, but as for tennis there were few matches over which the large gallery enthused. The players of national repu-tation all won their matches with ease, Clothier allowing his man but three games in the match, and Larned went up into the third round on a default. Waidner took his match with love sets, while Collins and Stevens won in straight sets.

The match of the day in the singles was the Ames-Wallace match, Ames being one of the leading players of Rhode Island. It required fifty-five games to decide this match. The championship doubles was disappointing, not developing the game looked for. It was at times snappy, but Ward and Wright had no difficulty in winning the bulk of the had no difficulty in winning the bulk of the work falling on Wright. Alexander and Hackett were not up to their game and did not play with the accuracy of yesterday, when they defeated the Western champions, Collins and Waidner. In the three sets Ward and Wright made 96 points to their opponents, 66. Alexander and Hackett had planned to play to Ward, who is the weaker player of the two they faced, but Wright prevented this by stepping in and relieving his partner, and some of his work was sensational.

The result of the day's play follows:

Sensational.

The nineteenth just of the season of Pittsburg and New York, which took place at the Polo Grounds yesterday, saw the Kaickerbooker Knights pierce the armor of Clarke's cfusaders and flay them soundly. Like the two preceding games, yesterday's was one sided, yet lest not one just or tittle.

of Clarke's crusaders and flay them soundly. Like the two preceding games, yesterday's was one sided, yet lost not one jot or tittle of interest on that account. Good fielding plays, a liberal share of solid hitting and the sharp spirit of rivalry gave zest to it.

Until the fifth inning the battle was evenly waged, but in the fifth Leever exploded. His curve was not working right, his control was poor, and the New Yorks drove him to the bench with a cluster of hits and runs. MoGinnity was in tiptop form, and though good all the time improved with each succeeding inning. There was more vim and substance to New York's play than to Pittburgs—more speed in fielding, more muscle when they swung their bats and more variety and more celerity in base running.

Hillebrand made a fine stop of Donlin's long single in the first inning and held the Donlin person at first. McGann forced Donlin, but stole second and was helped home when Mertes planted a safety in right. Dahlen, who later was put out of the game for a foolish kick on a strike, which looked to be a strike, gave the Pittsburgs a run in the second. He fumbled Howard's grounder, and Brain's double and Ritchey's scratch single brought Howard around. Hillebrand prevented the New Yorks from scoring in the second by a beautiful running catch of Strang's smash toward the ropes. In the third inning Hillebrand dropped Browne's fly, and Browne went to second. Donlin sacrificed, McGann died at first, and Mertes walted for four balls. Browne and Mertes attempted a double steal, and Gibson's plekup of Wagner's low return, on which he got Browne at the plate, was baseball of high quality.

The best thing in a day of big deeds at

The best thing in a day of big deeds at the bat by Dave Brain was a hurricane hit to left center for a home run. A splendid bunt by Browne was the opening gun in New York's demonstration in force in the fifth. Donlin tore off a wicked two bagger to right, which scored Browne, Donlin going to third on Hillebrand's throw home. Mogann was hit, Mertes walked, and the nooks were all tenanted. Donlin scored on Bowerman's out at first. Then came the turning point in the game. Leever made the mistake of giving Devlin a high ball. That is Devlin's groove, and Appreciative Arthur splashed a single to center which scored McGann and Mertes.

Browne bunted again in the sixth and stole second. Mertes gave Hillebrand a long and futile chase with a ripper to the low fence. Hillebrand, being unused to gage calculating angles in that quarter, ran the wrong way to head off the ball, and Mertes followed Browne home. Brain made a two bagger in the seventh that was as high as the airship. The ball fell midway between Devlin and McGinnity showed how little he cared for it by quickly handing the next three batters their discharge papers. In New York's half of the seventh Devlin, Strang and Bresnahan each drove a fly to the outfield, and each frove a fly to the outfield, and each of the Pittsburg outfielders made a put-out.

Leach and Wagner cracked out intermittent singles in the eighth, but there was no scoring. With two out, Howard drifted a fly to the left foul line and Devlin made a gorgeous catch. He ran out half way to the fence and wille under full headway reached forward and attached himself to the falling buillet. The score:

Three pitchers were batted out of the box in yesterday's game at Washington Park, two of them Brooklyn employers and one a Chicago worker. The Brooklyns won the game, but it was a close call. There was some merry slugging in the melée, and in the sixth inning the Brooklyns made five runs. They made five other runs at various times and needed all they made before the game was over. The Cubs came with a rush in the last three innings and all but tied the score. It was a slam beng, harum—scarum battle. Hanlon has protested the second game of Tuesday on the ground that Umpire Klem called Tinker out on a fly to Lumley and then changed his decision and said Lumley had not made a fair catch. Two men scored on the play. The score:

PIRST GAME. St. Louis, Aug. 23.—The New Yorks broke even on to-day's double header. In the first Powell opened for the visitors. His wild-ness in the first inning gave the game to the Brown s beyond question. Two free passes, a couple of hits and an error netted four runs. Hogg twirled good ball, notwith-standing the fact that he walked four men standing the fact that he walked four men and hit two others with pitched balls. He gave the Brownies only two hits in the seven innings he pitched. Between games admirers of Griffith presented to him a handsome bouquet of American Beauties. Tim Hurst making the presentation speech at the plate.

The second contest was a pitchers' battle throughout and ran twelve ninings. Newton worked as steady as a clock, though Howell was the more spectacular. For eleven innings neither team was able to score, and only twice in that time did the Browns get a man on third. It was Yeager, however, who saved the day for the visitors by making a great stop of stone's hot grounder to short, returning it to the plate in time to nip Rockenfield who was on third. In the twelfth Yeager opened with a grounder through Rockenfield, was sacrificed to second and oame home on McGuire's rap to right. The score:
